America Star Books The capability to distinguish blueprints, tendencies, and significant trade procedures is a first nature to becoming a part of the world's best trading associates—in respective to this, you need to be trained to see these blueprints through careful explanation, real-world examples as mentioned in this book, and a lot of many other examples. Today's business market is constantly changing every day. As you begin your hunt for the perfect business, consider starting close to the New York Stock Market, the Stock Market or the World Trade Center itself. For instance, if you're currently employed by a small business you like, find out whether the present owner would consider selling it. Or, ask some business associates and friends who are already buying and selling stocks for leads on similar businesses that may be on the market. Many of the best business opportunities surface by word of mouth or you can check the bulletin—and are snapped up before their owners ever list them for sale. Other avenues to explore include newspaper or online ads, trade associations, real estate brokers, and business suppliers. Finally, there are business brokers—people who earn a commission from business owners who need help finding buyers. It's fine to use a broker to help locate a business opportunity, but it's foolish to rely on a broker—who doesn't make a commission until a sale is made—for advice about the quality of a business or the fairness of its selling price.
