However, the truth is that self help credit repair is not only possible, but really the way to go. It isn't as difficult as many people might think going about repairing your credit yourself. In fact the newest trend in credit repair actually the self help road. All you need to do is start by pulling a copy of your credit report from all three credit reporting bureaus: Experian, Equifax, and TransUnion. You are entitled to one free credit report per year thanks to passage of the FACT Act. The other two, you'll have to pay for, but the fee is usually small - between $10 and $15. After you get your credit reports, the next self help step is to go through those reports and check to see that the information is accurate. Most of the time, there are going to be errors of some type. These errors can vary from a past due account that has been paid off to a debt that wasn't yours in the first place. If you find errors, you need to contact the credit reporting agency both by phone and in writing. You'll be asked to provide proof of the error and then they, in turn are required to notify you in writing of their decision to either remove it from your credit report or leave it due to insufficient proof. Be diligent in this endeavor. An accomplished self help credit repair program entails being aggressive when it comes to your information and the accuracy of that information. Another part of a self help credit repair program includes the development of a long-term plan that will help you keep your credit use under control and a plan for not getting into credit problems again. Sure, credit counselors can help you do this, but why pay the money and take the chance that you are dealing with a less than reputable company? MONEY MANAGEMENT TURN BAD CREDIT INTO GOOD CREDIT

A SIMPLE BEGINNERS GUIDE ON THE BEST STRATEGIES TO BE DEBT FREE, SAVE MONEY, PERSONAL FINANCE AND FINANCIAL INDEPENDENCE

Robert Anderson It seems that everywhere you turn, someone wants to know your credit score. It doesn't matter if this is you or someone from your bank. Many landlords will even run a potential renter's credit as this will usually give them insight as to whether the person will pay their rent. The landlords will also have guidelines to use in order to tell you if you are approved or not approved based on your credit score. While some may allow you to have a cosigner if you are not approved, they will also want to run your co-signer's credit report. This is often frustrating to many people, especially when you are trying to repair your credit. It can make you feel that you are never given a break or that your identity is now your bad credit. It doesn't have to be this way. In fact, the more you learn about the details of what bad credit is and how there are federal laws to help you overcome bad credit, the faster you will find yourself in financial freedom. Your credit score is vital to your life. It is something that helps you to enjoy life as you have added access to financial services and various investments. You must understand how your score can directly influence what you can purchase so that you can enjoy your life. The problems you have with your credit score can be very dramatic and you might not be fully aware of what affects your credit score or how valuable it is to you. Those people who pay off their debts and lines of credit with on-time payments will be more likely to have better credit ratings. There are many things relating to your credit score that should be explored that go well beyond just your payment history.

It is entirely possible, with the right information and a good plan, to work down your debt and become debt free in a relatively short period of time. The guide discusses that the first step to becoming debt free is to take a holistic and clear assessment on all of your debts. This means creating a list of all your debts, who they are owed to and the terms of the debt such as interest rate and so on. You cannot come up with a plan of action until you know what all you are facing. This is also the time to obtain a credit report. You can obtain your credit report from the following agencies: Experian Equifax TransUnion Once you have your credit report, go through it thoroughly to ensure that everything on it is accurate. If something is inaccurate, you will need to contact the appropriate agency to get the issue fixed. After you have all your debts laid out, you need to get an idea of how much money you have and where it goes and use this to create a budget. The guide recommends creating a detailed spreadsheet of your spending to include even small expenses such as: Eating out budget Entertainment budget Magazines or other incidentals These should be tracked in addition to the big expenses like the mortgage and bills. When you begin to write all this down, you can already often see areas in which you can reduce or improve your spending habits. The savings that can be gleaned here can be put towards reducing and eliminating your debt. To create a budget for repaying your debts, you need to be realistic about what you can do. Take into account your earnings, vital expenses and any areas in which you could reduce expenses so as to put the savings towards debt repayment. You can use this figure to determine the amount of time it should feasibly take you to get out of debt. Once you have all this information, you can put a time-specific budget together that defines exactly how and when you are going to repay your debt. The guide recommends focusing on the debts with the least favorable terms (high interest rates, late payment fees, etc) first, as this will cost less money in the long run. For those with very serious debts or complicated debts, credit counseling our debt settlement may be a good option. The guide discusses what these options mean and who they are best suited for.
